CAPTAIN TIMMONS

Captain Timmons has many names: Guardian of the Glade, Protector of the Forest, and Timmons the True. His reputation precedes him in battle. His imposing form is secondary to those that know him.

He was friend to the late Malpheous, the blind hermit that took in Vax Mercer and Hunter Skylow. He raised them as his own sons. It was only upon his death did the "brothers" take opposite paths to find their "father's" killer.

Hunter vowed to find the killer by making a name for himself in the under city as an assassin. Once he had a reputation, the League of Assassins would recruit him, and the killer would be revealed, and Hunter would kill him.

Vax, on the other hand, sought out his old friend, Captain Timmons. Timmons used his resources to not only find the killer, but solve the mystery of why his friend was killed. They agreed that they would bring the killer to justice.

As the killer was put on trial, he stood before the judge. As he began to speak, three poisoned daggers plunged into his chest. A silhouette disappeared into the shadows. Both men had completed their objectives.
